COAL DEAL.

Facts About the Recent Western Kentucky Purchases and Ownership.

The North American Co. will Secure Entire Capital Stock of West Kentucky Coal Co.

So much has been put into print in the daily press recently about the transfer of coal properties in Western Kentucky to the North American Company, the soul of which company, the dispatches tell us, is the wealthy and widely known New York capitalist J. Pierpont Morgan; that a glimpse at rock bottom facts will prove interesting. The Bee has made special effort to get these facts, now presented to our readers.

The properties that have been absorbed by the North American Co., are the mines and equipment of Tradewater Coal Co., of Sturgis, the United States Gas & Coal Co., of Sturgis, the Wheatcroft Coal Co., of Wheatcroft, the Baker properties in Webster county near Dixon, and various coal rights swelling the total acreage in lands and mining rights to about twenty-five thousand acres.

The Wheatcroft deal is the last to be consummated and there has been denial that this sale made, but it can be stated excellent authority that Wheatcroft mine has been sold for and will come into the hands of the North American in due time.

Various large figures have been used as the marks at which these different properties have changed hands, all of which have been more or less guess work. For instance, the Wheatcroft deal is quoted all the way from $160,000 to $300,000, the latter figure, if authentic, said to include river equipment and elevators at various Ohio and Mississippi river points. It is a safe proposition that all such speculations as to values in such transfers are generally without authentic information and often wide of the mark. It seems most likely, however, that the North American Co., has paid very good prices for the properties they have acquired. What appears to be the most authentic figures are Tradewater Coal Co., $400,000; United States Gas & Coal Co., $600,000; Baker properties, $100,000; Wheatcroft, $160,000. The properties bought include the coal elevators at Paducah and Memphis, and the towing equipment of the United States Coal Co. It is the purpose of the West Kentucky Coal Co. to ship coal by river, thus opening markets not now attainable by railroad transportation.

These properties have been bought for and held by one company instead of two or three companies, as some published reports have said. This purchasing company is The North American Co., of New York, in the directorate of which company appears the name of Robert Bacon. Mr. Bacon is one of J. Pierpont Morgan's partners in the banking business, and this fact has given rise to the widespread connection of the name of the wizard of Wall Street with these ventures. Whether Mr. Morgan is actually interested in these Western Kentucky coal operations will probably remain, as it is now, a guess.

The West Kentucky Coal Company has been organized under control of the North American Co., and will take over and operate all these properties purchased by the latter company. The following dispatch from Wall Street gives detailed information of the transaction and shows the connection of the two companies.

Five Hundred Thousand Dollars And Thirty-Five Per Cent Bonds.

"New York, July 31—It was learned today that amount invested by North American Co., in purchase of 22,000 acres of coal lands in Western Kentucky for $200,000, that the company will secure entire capital stock of West Kentucky Co., organized to assume ownership of the property. In addition to capital stock there will be a thirty-five per cent bond issue of more than the amount of the capital stock. It is understood that arrangement have been completed for sale of bonds to banking interests close to the North American Co. There may be a public offering of the bonds later."

The North American Co., is incorporated under the laws of New Jersey, organized to "engage in railroad and general financing and promote street railway and electric light and power enterprises." Its capital stock was originally $50,000,000, which was subsequently reduced to $12,000,000, but later increased to $17,000,000. The recent increase in stock was for the purpose of purchasing the stock of the Laelde Gas Light Co. of St. Louis, and was made in March, 1903. The North American Co., also controls the Union Electric Light and Power Co., of St. Louis, and, through the same plan of stock ownership, other such properties at Cincinnati, Milwaukee, Detroit and elsewhere.

It is the declared purpose of the West Kentucky Coal Co., to ship a large proportion of its output by river to St. Louis for use in the gas and electric plants controlled by the North American Co. Two coal boats have been built at St. Louis. Some coal men who experienced question the practicability and the profit of shipping by river to St. Louis but the new company was starting out to make a thorough test of the matter, and the question of its practicability must wait in the public mind the results of this test.

HELD BY SLUGGERS

Nor-Union Men Believed to Have Been Brutally Tortured in Chicago.

Former Army Officer Captive for Three Weeks Bears Proof of Violence Committed by Thugs.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Apparent evidence that labor sluggers maintain in Chicago a place where systematic torture is meted out to those incur the displeasure of the slingers has just come to light in the case of William H. Wilder.

Wilder was formerly an army officer, and at the time of the recent teamsters' strike was claim agent for a Chicago package express company. He disappeared July 6, and was held captive for three weeks, and was then set at liberty, half starved and so dazed that he had not been able to give a coherent account of his captivity. He was found by a friend wandering aimlessly about near the Union Station at Canal and Adams streets and was taken to his home at Downers Grove. Physicians pronounced his physical and mental condition such that he may not recover. Much of the time he raves wildly and, as though still under torture, begs for mercy. Marks all over his body show that he had been bound with heavy cords. Over a hundred dollars is known to have had on his person when he was taken.

Wilder is an Englishman who saw service in the American army in Cuba and in the Philippines and held a commission as a second lieutenant in the regular army. He is a bold, outspoken man of thirty-seven years of age, who gloried in his physical ability to take care of himself and defied pickets or sluggers to intimidate him.

Fugate-Moore.

Mr. Will Fugate, of the Bethlehem neighborhood, and Miss Jessie Moore, of the Grapevine vicinity, were quietly married Sunday afternoon at the residence of Elder S. F. Fowler in Madisonville by Elder T. D. Moore, of Hopkinsville. The bride is the daughter of Elder W. H. Moore and is an estimable and popular young lady. Mr. Fugate is a farmer and is possessed of many excellent qualities. Their many friends wish them all happiness.

New Plan.

The Burley tobacco growers, after months of labor, have evolved a plan which they think will place them beyond the reach of the tobacco trust. A new company, with a capital stock of $1,500,000, has been organized and a committee appointed to appportion the stock among the Burley producing counties in the district. The new company will act as buying and selling agents for the farmers.

Escaped Murderer Captured.

Hopkinsville, Ky., July 28.—Claude Dixon, the murderer of Matthew Sumner, who, with several other prisoners, escaped from the Trigg county jail at Cadiz last January, has been captured by officers of the law near Horn Lake, DeSoto county, Miss., and has been returned to the county jail at Cadiz by Sheriff Bud Hammond, of Trigg county, who begged to Horn Lake after him, MILITARY.

Kentucky State Guard Going Soon to Annual Encampment at Paducah.

Company G Will Leave Home Saturday, August 26, and Will Be Gone Eight Days.

Arrangements have been completed for the annual camp of instruction for the Kentucky State Guard to be held at Paducah, beginning on August 7th and closing on Sept. 2nd.

General orders have been issued to the commanders of the regiments regarding the moving of the men under them to the camp, and regulations while there. The troops will be reviewed by Gov. Beckham, on which review days he will be accompanied by the members of his official staff. The review days of the Second regiment has been fixed for August 11. The Governor will visit the camp again on August 24 to review the First regiment troops, and will remain in the camp until the 28th to review the Third regiment.

Adjt. Gen. Haley and Col. Gaines, the Inspector General, expect to have the best equipped camp ever held by the guard.

First Lieutenant David Y. Beckham, Artillery corps, United States army, brother of Gov. Beckham, has been detailed by the War Department to give instructions to the troops while in camp, and will remain there during the entire time of the encampment.

A signal corps will be stationed at the camp under the command of Capt. Donaldson, of Frankfort, Ky., and will demonstrate the use of the telegraph, telephone and wireless telegraphy as used during actual warfare. Rifle ranges will also be established for target practice by the troops.

Separate orders were issued last week regulating the movement of troops from their homes to the camp of instruction. Under these orders the Second Regiment will be in camp first, from August 7th to the 14th; the First Regiment will go second and will be in camp from August 17 to the 24th and the Third Regiment, to which Co. G belongs will go last being in camp from Aug. 25th to Sept. 2nd.

The local military company, Co. G, will leave here at 10 o'clock a.m. on Saturday, Aug. 26th, for Nortonville and will leave there at 1:35 p.m. over the Illinois Central Railroad for Paducah arriving there about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. On returning they will leave Paducah on the night of Sept. 2 arriving here early Sunday morning, Sept. 3rd. It is thought that the result of the inspection held here several months ago will be announced during the encampment.

A Fool and His Money.

The Good Book says "A fool and his money is soon parted." Such being the case in a brief space of time "Scotty," of special train fame won't have a red cent. In the language of the immortal Bill Nye, "a fool has come out of the West." His name is Walter Scott, not he of novelistic fame, however, but a miner from the dreary waste of Death Valley, where he claims to have a gold mine of inexpressible richness. Scott recently paid $9,000 for a train that could make fast time across the continent and afterwards visited New York where he out Carnegie in attempting to separate himself from his wealth. This week he visited Cincinnati and did "Coal Oil Johnny" stunts that astonished the natives. He purchased vast quantities of champagne for every one in sight and there were a number always in sight. This kind of business will be of short duration and in the cold gray dawn of the sweet subsequently Scotty is going to wake up not famous as he fondly hopes, but broke, dead broke.

LOCAL COAL OPERATIONS HURT BY YELLOW FEVER.

Scare Causes General Demoralization of Business in the South.

COAL MAN SAYS ORDERS AFFECTED.

To one who measures influence by miles of space the statement that the yellow fever scare in New Orleans has had and is having its effect upon the coal business of Hopkins county, Kentucky, would seem like a dream of the pipe. Nevertheless, the facts justify the statement and the conditions are such now that the business interests of this county are today sustaining a loss through the falling off in orders to the coal mine operators, directly because of the yellow fever at New Orleans. The effect here is only temporary, of course, but any decrease in coal orders at this season of the year is felt more keenly by the operators and miners, because the coal business is normally of the minimum volume.

An operator on the Illinois Central railroad said yesterday that business south of Memphis was more or less generally demoralized because of the yellow fever, the quarantine regulations and the fear that the disease might spread beyond New Orleans. Most of the coal that goes from Hopkins county to Memphis, he said, goes through the wholesalers to points beyond, and this is the trade that has fallen off. This is true, both as to coal shipped to the railroads and for general use. The railroads are hampered in their efforts to get labor to handle coal at the stations where they store large quantities. Hence their orders are also curtailed.

The authorities at New Orleans cheerfully assert through the dispatches that they are surely getting the disease under control and the rest of the world is waiting hopefully.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. The only remedy now is to use deafening remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the cochlear tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result. Until the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; in this case it is best to use Cat's Claw, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

While on the way to the boothhouse the other afternoon we passed a house from which came the strains of sodal stirring music from a piano and a sweet song from the throat of a certain young lady. The only distinguishable words from the song were something about "dear old mother." Passing on and turning the corner down a side street we saw through the kitchen window the dear old mother with her arms bared to the elbow making up biscuit dough for supper, while the perspiration ran down her wrinkled face and the steam from the range ran the temperature of the room up to 108. She was singing "We'll work Till Jesus Comes" and "Rest Sweet Rest."

SLOT MACHINES MUST GO.

Says Sheriff of Henderson County—Machine Creates a Stir.

Henderson, Ky., Aug. 1.—Sheriff S. A. Young, who a few months ago was appointed Sheriff to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Henry Dixon, gave out printed notice today that he would strictly enforce the law as to slot machines as well as any other gambling devices, according to the law laid down in the Kentucky statutes. His proclamation has created quite a stir among the residents. Some people maintain that "Central" is to be a bureau of information and expect the operator to be able to answer any and all questions asked. Some people when asking for a number command the operator to give them numbers and so, while others more considerate call for a number and follow the request with that magical little word, "Please."

BIG FAIR

To be Held at Guthrie This Month—
Only Mile Track in Western Kentucky.

There will be no fair at Bowling Green, Ky., this year. The states of Missouri and Tennessee having stopped pool selling on races, brings the Kentucky and Tennessee Fair at Guthrie, Ky., this year greatly in demand, and the prospects for the greatest fair ever held in that part of either state is bright and promising. Demands for catalogues and entry blanks are coming in not only from the states of Kentucky and Tennessee, but from the states of Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Alabama, Louisiana, Georgia and Virginia.

The mile track is in record breaking condition, having been specially prepared, at great expense, by an experienced track and high class horsemen.

A number of noted pacers and trotters are now quartered in the stables on the fair grounds.

The Kentucky and Tennessee Fair Association belong to the Southern Fair Circuit, and gained a big advantage to its many patrons by being the first to give an exhibition this season.

The dates of the fair are August 17, 18 and 19. The first day being "Dark Tobacco Growers Day," will bring together the largest crowd ever seen at the Guthrie Fair Grounds. The Association have offered liberal premiums on tobacco and arranged for some noted speakers to be present to address the tobacco growers on the evils of the trust and the necessity of the farmers standing together as one man in this great fight, which means either prosperity or starvation to the thousands of honest farmers in the "Black Patch."

Special arrangements have been made with the L. & N. for reduced rates.

TENTS ARE ERECTED

Encampment Site at Paducah—Signs of War Have Arrived.

Paducah, Aug. 1.—Scores of tents will be erected on the Wallack Park camp site by Wednesday, and after that detail dinners will be served. A detachment of the Signal Corps, numbering fifteen men, under command of Capt. Harry Donaldson, of Frankfort, will arrive Wednesday morning and will remain during the encampment. The signal service men will string all the telephone and telegraph wires and arrange for the signal service, and will also have supervision of the erection of the tents. Col. Noel Gaines, Inspector General; Col. Harry Tandy, Quartermaster General; Col. Mott Ayres, Paymaster General, of Frankfort; Col. A. T. McCormick, Medical Inspector, of Bowling Green, and Capt. Frank D. Rash, of Earlington, have arrived in the city and have been at the park all day making preparations for the encampment.

WHERE THEY WERE

Mabel was in the garden, Culling pretty flowers; Hazel in the hammock, Idling away the hours; Lucy by the brookside, Where it's nice and cool; Elizabeth is angry, Had to go to school.

Pansy's in the parlor, Just to snatch a nap, Richie's in the front porch, Flirting with a slap; Julia is in the pasture, Irmine's in the grove; But mother's in the kitchen With red hot stove.

The man who leaps the Gap at the Madisonville fair lost his balance Wednesday fell and broke his collar bone. This is the second accident he has had.

THE BEE force received a nice treat from Mrs. Withers this morning—a box of grapes and a gorgeous sunflower.

People Made Famous by The News

RESIDENT SIMON BOLÍVAR, Venezuela, has not exemplified the saying that one good turn deserves another in his relations with the United States. During the presidential term of Grover Cleveland this country pursued a great service in connection with the settlement of the boundary dispute with Great Britain. When Castro's Government was in serious trouble with foreign powers three years ago the United States sent it from the drumming at the hands of Europeans by having the American Legation in Venezuela. The Venezuelan dictator has returned these favors by refusing to submit to arbitration the controversy between his government and the New York and Bernades Asphalt company, thereby straining the friendly relations between Venezuela and the United States.

President Castro won the presidency of Venezuela in 1899 by organizing a successful revolution his peculiar methods have made him a conspicuous object in world politics. On one occasion, it is said, he sold his right to him to get Carson's money, and at another, hoarding gold in his homes. General Castro ordered that each of these men be taxed $90,000 for "support of the government." On their refusal they were tied to stakes so that they could not move and were beaten with electric light.

Half blinded and almost crazed by their sufferings, they at last yielded and paid the "tax." When Assistant Secretary of State Loounis was minister to Venezuela he recommended to Castro that the latter's methods were not such as to encourage investment of American capital in Venezuela. The dictator replied:

"Well, Mr. Loounis, those American asphalt people are getting very excited. Take them to a saloon and give them some ice cream to cool them off."

In the present crisis in the affairs of Russia it is said that the czar has leaned heavily upon his mother, the dowager empress, Maria Feodorovna. She has always exercised a powerful influence over her son, and in affairs of state has often presumed to act as his mother's eyes against his own judgment and inclinations. For the most of her life the dowager empress has lived in an atmosphere of apprehension and fear. Her own life has often been threatened. Her husband was Alexander III, and his father, Alexander II, was killed by a bomb in 1881. As a natural consequence of his mother's death, Alexander III, on coming to the throne instituted a repressive policy, was in constant fear of assassination, and lived virtually a prisoner in his palaces.

The circumstances of her life have not been such as to develop the gentler and more benevolent side of the dowager empress. She has become an enemy of reform and is considered the heart and soul of the reactionary element surrounding the czar. She is a daughter of Christian IX, of Denmark and is a sister of Queen Alexandra of Bulgaria. She has been the subject of much aversion and suspicion. She was the Princess Maria Dagmar before her marriage to Alexander III, Nov. 9, 1863, and was baptized into the Greek church as Maria Feodorovna. She is in her fifty-eighth year and is still well preserved and handsome woman.

Captain Harry Leonard, who has been ordered to Peking as military attaché of the American legation, is as gallant as he is handsome. Many persons consider the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo, 1901, mounted one armed officer in charge of a detachment of marines at the United States government building and wounded bow and where he lost his arm.

As he was too young to serve in the civil war they naturally inferred that it must have been shot off either in Cuba or the Philippines. Leonard has fought in the Philippines; it was in China, where he is going again, that he was injured. He was hit in the shoulder, when he was fighting, and the bullet passed through his shoulder, his companion escaped unharmed. The comrade was thrown from the box, and the carriage was smashed. Meanwhile the police official accompanying Baron von Nolken saw the bomb thrower and pursued and caught up with him, when the man proved to be Captain Leonard. He was afterwards confined to hospital until he could resume his duties with his regiment.

CAPTAIN HARRY LEONARD.

He was born in 1875, and is a graduate of the Naval Academy. He has been in the service since 1896, and has been promoted to captain. He is a member of the 1st Battalion, 1st Artillery, and is serving in the Philippines.

to the rear through the fire of the enemy and succeeded in saving his men, being praised for his conduct by the English general. Re-enforcements were sadly needed in another part of the field, and Captain Leonard volunteered to take them there. The movement was checked, and a hand-to-hand combat ensued, a comrade and a hand-welder heavy fire from the Chinese. Captain Leonard was leading his men when a rifle ball shattered his arm. Two officers undertook to assist him in getting to the rear. The Chinese fired at them, and Captain Leonard, who was the dangerous journey Captain Leonard forced the canal, in which the water came up to his chin, shoved bodies of dead Chinamen out of his way and scaled a small ten feet high. As he dropped on the other side unconscious relief came. Several days later his arm was amputated.

During his recent trip to New York Governor Joseph W. Folk of Missouri told the following story:

"There was an old fellow—a Democrat—who was in danger of losing his sight. About two weeks after the recent election the doctor said to him: 'Now take care here! You are going to lose your sight unless you stop drinking.'

"'One' his way home the fellow met one of his friends and said: 'Do you know what the doctor told me if I did not stop drinking? He said I would go blind.'

"'Well, what did you say?' asked the friend.

"I said, 'I have seen Missouri go Republican, and I guess I have seen about all I want to see anyway.'"

Fire Chief Croker of New York tells a remarkable story of a man who died in the service. He had many friends, and his funeral was an elaborate one, especially to flowers. The place of honor, however, was given to an elaborate emblem, a reproduction some four feet high of a man's badge in white, mounted on a black pedestal. The following startling motto: "Admit Within Fire Line Only."

JAMES B. FRAZIER, who has been chosen by the Tennessee legislature to fill the seat of Senator Frankland, occupied by the late General William B. Bate, was last fall elected governor of Tennessee for the second time. The senator elect had never held public office up to his appointment as governor, two years since. He was born in Tennessee forty-eight years ago, is a graduate of the University of Tennessee and a lawyer.

His grandfather was a member of the first constitutional convention of Tennessee, in 1796, and his father was an associate of President Andrew Johnson as judge of the criminal court at Nashville.

While stumping the state during the gubernatorial campaign of 1902 Governor Frazier entered the office of a Tennessee newspaper and found a corpulent German seated at a table, writing. Suddenly the tenant paused in his task, frowned, scratched his head, chewed the end of his pen and looked so obviously worried that Mr. Frazier good naturedly asked: "Friend, can I do any service to you?"

"Yah," was the prompt and relieved reply: "Please tell me yedder you puts an 'e' behind 'before'."

It was several seconds before the astute candidate grasped the man's meaning and gave the desired information.

Baron von Nolken, chief of police of Warsaw, who was injured by a bomb a few days ago, and serving in the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo, 1901, was charged with enforcing the repressive and anti-revolutionary policy he was with enforcing the law of Poland. He took the precaution to keep himself well guarded and usually remained in the central police station. It was only by accepting a position which involved the sacrifice of others that the revolutionaries were able to get at him. By throwing a bomb into a suburban police station at Praga, a suburb of Warsaw, they succeeded in drawing Baron von Nolken from his concealment. On his way to the scene of the explosion he was attacked by the bomb thrower who was lying in wait for him. The baron was severely hurt, but it is said the bomb thrower was not killed, as he had not been for the fact that the bomb was thrown behind instead of directly underneath the carriage. Baron von Nolken, who was sitting on the side nearest the assailant, received the full force of the explosion and was thrown from the carriage, while his companion escaped unharmed. The comrade was thrown from the box, and the carriage was smashed. Meanwhile the police official accompanying Baron von Nolken saw the bomb thrower and pursued and caught up with him, when the man proved to be Captain Leonard.

MINING NOTES.
No Work for Literate Mine Boys.
(Tamaqua, Pa., Telegram to the Philadelphia Record.)

W. D. Zehner, superintendent of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, has notified colliery foremen to make a canvass of the men in their employ under twenty years of age who are unable to read and write, with the end in view that all unable to do so will be discharged and that in the future none will be employed who are unable to do so. This order will mean the discharge of hundreds of boys.

Barbourville, Ky., July 29.—A new mine is being opened up on the property of John A. Black, just outside this city, by Hammonds & Cottonjim. They are putting in a track from their mine to the tipple of the Knox Gem mine, which they have leased and will use to load their coal on the cars on the L. & N. siding.

John Colbert was in Madisonville Sunday on business.

Jno. Orr, superintendent of the Shamrock mine, near Providence, was here Friday on business.

Mr. D. B. Baker, who has been cashier of the Citizens Bank at Providence, resigned on last Tuesday, Aug. 1st. He is president of the Webster County Coal Company, whose mine is located near that place and resigned his connection with the bank in order to devote more time to his coal business.

Mr. J. W. Lester, of this place, made a business trip to Madisonville Friday.

New York, July 28.—The North American Company which has closed the deal for the purchase of 25,000 acres of valuable coal land in Western Kentucky has had the land investigated by experts who report that there is at the present time about 10,000,000 tons of bituminous coal available on the property without any additional development work. They also estimate that the entire coal deposits thereon amount to 100,000,000 tons, the 90,000,000 additional being available upon sinking new shafts and further development work.

Supt. Rutland, of the Empire Coal and Mining Co., suffered a painful accident a few days since while riding an auto cycle. The machine became unmanageable and ran into a tree at a higher speed than was comfortable to the rider. Mr. Rutland was thrown and pretty well bruised. No bones were broken but the injuries received placed him on the disabled list for several days.

Spottsville people think the coal mining property of that section is to soon undergo a change in ownership and that the Spottsville district will remain the chief coal producing section of Henderson county, says the Arnold Coal Company of that place has been bought by a company having its home office in Indianapolis, Ind., and that the change in ownership will take place in the near future. Besides that the people of the Green river town expect a Pennsylvania company which owns several hundred acres of coal rights southwest of Spottsville to begin operation soon.

Mr. Will Suggs, of Mercer Station, Ky., is visiting relatives here this week.

Wm. Sick, of Hillside, visited relatives here several days this week.

TUBERCULOSIS PREVENTABLE.

Indulgence in things harmful is only more blamable than ignorance of common means to avoid danger. There is so much enlightenment abroad in these good days that leads to right and sanitary living, the preservation of health and the prevention of disease that even the ignorant should profit thereby. One of the most hopeful signs along these lines is the united effort for a spread of knowledge for the prevention of tuberculosis.

There is in Louisville a recent organization for the purpose of spreading this knowledge and this movement has grown already to large proportions.

We urge all our readers to read and preserve the following utterance of an eminent physician who has made a close study of this disease that can and should be controlled:

"Tuberculosis is not only a distinctly preventable disease, but is much more readily and certainly preventable than most of those diseases usually called contagious, for the sole source of infection is contained in the discharges, which may be readily destroyed at the time of exit from the body." —Dr. Herman M. Biggs.

The next thing the progressive city of Earlinton needs is a public drinking fountain for man and beast. The Bee arises to say that this has for some time been on its mind, and these days are surely dry enough for the suggestion to take effect upon a public usually indifferent to the question of drink. Man can care for himself but it would be a humane act if the city council would erect a public drinking fountain at a convenient and central location where the careless or hurried driver of horses could water his team without loss of time. Many a driver does not take the time to water his horses when he has to hunt water. It would be a public spirited act. Let's have a public drinking fountain.

BLEEDING Russia now faces future starvation. The crops are reported a total failure in many districts and the government has been officially advised to prepare to cope with a famine far greater than those of 1891 and 1897, when the American people succored the stricken Russians with ship loads of wheat. So many Russians have died with their boots on that, if other military drafts are made, only the women and children will be left to die of starvation.

The work of State Inspector Hines, under the direction of Auditor J. W. Hager, in uncovering the methods of graft at the hands of certain "Auditors Agents," in the conduct of back tax collections, must meet with approval of Kentuckians generally. The methods of some of these "Auditors Agents" and their assistants have been infamous.

A WORD WITH ADVERTISERS

Many an advertiser has quit just when his advertising train was beginning to move—simply because he ceased shoveling the coal in and stopped to look at some advertising express thunder by under full head of steam. He forgot that it took time and lots of coal and labor for the other fellow to get sufficient steam up to overcome inertia and get a 60-mile-an-hour move on him. Did you ever know a quitter to become a successful advertiser?—Agricultural Advertiser.

LONG LEASE

Given to Milton H. Smith and Wife to L. H. & St. L. Railway.

Milton H. Smith, president of the L. and N. railroad, this morning filed a lease in the County Clerk's office at Louisville, by which he conveys for a period of 999 years the property lying between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets and Market and Main streets to the L. H. & St. L. railroad. This property during the past few months has been purchased piecemeal by the Columbia Trust Company for a freight terminal of the L. H. and St. L.

It was deeded over yesterday to Mr. Smith from the Columbia. In neither the lease nor the deed does Mr. Smith appear in his official capacity as president of the L. and N. The lease is signed by himself and wife, Mrs. Annaette M. Smith.

The lease provides that for the use of the ground the L. H. and St. L. shall pay to the lessor an annual rental of $11,600 in quarterly installments for the first five years of the term. Beginning with July 1, 1910, and for the remaining 994 years or the lease the lessee shall pay an annual rental of $9,280, payable quarterly. At the expiration of the lease, July 1, 2904, the lessee is given right to renew it on the same terms forever thereafter. The lease furthermore agrees to pay all charges, taxes, rates, etc. The lease is made effective under the United States and the State of Kentucky "and their political successors if such there be."

BABY'S FACE MASS OF SORES

Ears Looked as If They Would Drop Off—Body Entirely Covered with Humor—Three Doctors Could Not Cure—Child Grew Worse.

CURED BY CUTICURA IN TWO WEEKS

Mrs. George J. Steeves, of 707 Coburg St., Akron, Ohio, writes in the following letter of another of those remarkable cures of torturing, disfiguring skin humor diseases made by Cuticura, sold by Cuticura Oil Agent, after physicians, and all else had failed: "I feel it my duty to parents of others suffering from this terrible affliction to tell them what Cuticura did for my little daughter. She broke out all over her body with a humor, and we tried everything recommended, but still everything recommended, but still nothing helped. The doctors, they all claimed they could help her, but she continued to grow worse. Her face was a mass of sores, and her little face was swollen, and her look as if they would drop off. Neighbors advised me to get Cuticura. So I did, and before I had used half of the cake of soap and box of ointment the sores had all healed, and my little one's face and body were as new again. I would not be without it again if it cost five dollars, instead of seventy-five cents, which is all it cost us to cure our baby, after spending many dollars on doctors and medicines without any benefit whatever."

SLEEP FOR BABIES

Rest for Mothers.

Instant relief and refreshing sleep for skin-tortured babies, and rest for tired mothers, in warm baths with Cuticura Ointment. Cuticura is the great skin cure, and purer of emollients.

FOUND SON IN PENITENTIARY

After a Year's Search Roy Courtwright Found by His Father in Missouri Prison.

Jackson City, Mo., Aug. 2.—At first believed to have been kidnapped, then murdered as dead, Roy Courtwright, a handsome, rollicking youth of 17, whose sudden disappearance from his Kansas City home a year ago prostrated his parents, a completed baffled the police, has turned up as an inmate of the Missouri penitentiary.

Hospitals, orphans asylums and other institutions that might possibly have furnished shelter for the absent boy were visited, but to no purpose, until at last the prisons were searched and the son was found.

It seems that the youth ran away from home to have a good time, and was arrested at Springfield, Mo., charged with stealing from a store, denied the secret, and argued that he had been given him. He also told the judge that he was 17, but that official did not believe his story, and gave him two years in the penitentiary. Under the law of Missouri no person under 21 can be committed to the penitentiary. Strange friends have taken the matter up and the governor will issue a pardon.

YOUNG KANSAS FRATRICIDE

Was Beating Mother Killed His Brother When Later Interfered.

Fort Scott, Kas., Aug. 2.—Vern Meadow, 15, shot his mother with his brother Lee, 27. The boy, it is alleged, was beating his mother because she would not give him money with which to go to a circus, when the older brother interfered. Vern grabbed a shotgun, and shot his brother, giving himself up. The load of shot took away most of the wounded man's abdomen. The dying man requested that his brother not be prosen.

Former Being a Drummer
From Chicago.

New Orleans, Aug. 2.—Following is the yellow fever record since former report: New cases, 42; total cases to date, 316. Deaths, 6; total deaths to date, 68.

The day, as shown above, witnessed an increase in the number of cases from yellow fever, a fact that was not unexpected in view of the high temperature that has prevailed the past two days. There was, however, the usual large preponderance of Italian names among the names of patients and dead, which has characterized the reports since the time when the fever was first officially announced as existent here. In spite of the increased mortality, the health authorities exhibited no concern over the situation, contenting that with the accumulation of cases there would be a corresponding increase in fatalities to maintain the average death rate of the fever. It is still possible to trace all the new cases that are appearing to the original focus.

No reports have come of cases outside of New Orleans which might have developed from Italians who scattered when the health boards first started in to treat the disease. So vigilant have been the medical authorities in all the other towns of the State and in other states, that it is not believed that many more such cases will be reported. A falling off in port charges has been reported by the dock commission, which controls the city wharves. This is due to the diversion of the fruit traffic, which has not been fully explained. Steamers have quite possibly been sent to other points to avoid detention after leaving here.

A CASE AT SHREVEPORT.Barney Tracy, a Chicago Traveling Man, the Patient.

Shreveport, La., Aug. 2.—Barney Tracy, a traveling man, died yesterday in the detention camp just outside the corporate limits of this city suffering from yellow fever. There are no other cases in the detention camp nor any case in the city. The infection has been traced directly to New Orleans, although Tracy spent but a few hours in that city.

When the existence of disease at the doors of the city became known, through an official diagnosis, there was almost a panic; several hundred people leaving on outgoing trains.

A CASE AT MONTGOMERY, Ala.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 2.—It is officially declared that a case of yellow fever is at the pest house here.

A CLASH OF AUTHORITY.

Mississippi Soldiers Said to Have Invaded Louisiana.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 2.—Actions from Baton Rouge, the capital of Louisiana, state that a clash between the Mississippi and Louisiana authorities over the quarantining situation is imminent. It is said that Mississippi soldiers, employed as quarantine guards, had invaded Louisiana soil and that Dr. S. Blanchard, president of the Louisiana board of health, has asked Gov. Blanchard to wire the proper authorities in Washington to intervene at once.

A STRICT QUARANTINE.

Orders Issued by Gov. Jeff Davis of Arkansas.

Little Rock, Aug. 2.—Gov. Davis has issued an order directing Gen. Hayes, commander of the state guard, to detail as many men as may be necessary to establish a strict state quarantine against all points where yellow fever may exist. The militia will act as guards upon all trains entering the state and at all points where boats may land. This committee is to report the success of their efforts at another meeting to be held next Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

New Orleans, Aug. 2.—A petition is being quietly circulated here by the various railroads, asking that the fever situation be placed under the control of the state and of health boards and placed in exclusive charge of the United States government. It is hoped the disagreeable quarantine will be remedied and the sanitary work performed in Havana under the direction of the government will be duplicated here.

The Great Northern and Northern Pacific's Response to Demands for Increased Wages.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 2.—Negotiations which have been pending between the Order of Railway Telegraphers and the Great Northern and Northern Pacific for an increase in wages have come to a standstill when General Manager Horn of the Northern Pacific notified the telegraphers of that system that the company's propositions as to the rate of wages it would pay was final, and they could accept it or leave the service.

The Great Northern men took position to stand firm toward their employees, thus throwing confusion into the ranks of the telegraphers, who had scarcely expected such a move. The only chance of an adjustment of the terms of the contract is with Mr. Hill, who is in New York, and to whom President Perham of the Railway Telegraphers appealed in a telegram.

Just how many men have refused to consider the terms offered by the roads is unknown. No definite reports have been received at the headquarters of either road.

The order affects about 750 operators and agents on the Great Northern and about 1,200 on the Northern Pacific.

All Operations Ordered Out.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 2.—All the telegraph operators of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific systems have been ordered to stop work by President Perham of the Order of Railway Telegraphers. According to the officials of the Telegraphers' union, between 1,900 and 2,000 men will be affected by the order.

CAZAR FEELS MORE WARLIKE

Approves a Resolution to Continue the War Until the Enemy is Crushed.

London, Aug. 2.—The St. Petersburg government has approved the resolution of the Times newspaper.

Another imperial telegram, of even a more warlike character than the message lately sent by the czar to the clergy of Orenburg, appears in the Official Messenger. The czar, in replying to an address of the Russian army, expressed his approval of a resolution to continue the war until the enemy is crushed, and, above all, it adds, he will not think of a cession of territory for the payment of an indemnity.

According to the Russ, an inspired organ of the Japanese, the imperial interview of M. Witte will immediately break off the negotiations.

It is thoroughly recognized that Sakhalin is lost to Russia forever. It is also recognized that the possession of Sakhalin places the whole Amur region under Japanese influence.

The Japanese are already establishing a permanent force of 20,000 men and 72 guns, with the view to occupying the lower territory of Amur river.

The coast of the Usun territory in Siberia has been practically abandoned by the Japanese.

Wants Methodist Training School.

Central City, Aug. 1.—A meeting of prominent citizens was held here last night for the purpose of devising means of inducing the Methodist Training School, to be located at some point in Western Kentucky, to come here. A commercial club was formed and the following board of directors named: John S. Hobson, chairman; Albert Christian, secretary; John T. May, R. O. Pace, T. F. Fortney, P. K. Salzberg, W. D. McElhinney, M. T. Cain, S. J. Gish, and M. F. Moore, directors. Joe T. May, W. D. McElhinney and S. J. Gish were appointed a committee to solicit funds and to ask parties having suitable grounds to donate a location. This committee is to report the success of their efforts at another meeting to be held next Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

A Narrow Escape.

Henderson, Ky., Aug. 1.—Charles Tillotson, a prominent farmer of this county, had a narrow escape from being burned to death. While his home was burning, and when the roof was about to fall in, he rescued his three children from the flames. His clothes were burned from his body and the hair from his head.

Cholera Infants.

This disease has lost its terrors since Cholera entered the city, and general use. The uniform success which attends the use of this remedy in all cases of bowel complaints made it a favorite wherever its value has become known.

This remedy is for sale by St. Louis, St. Paul, and Earlington; H. T. Robinson, Mortons Gap; Jno. X. Taylor, Earlington.

TOBACCO REPORT

For Kentucky—Acreage Considerably Reduced.

A final report on tobacco acreage and condition has been issued by the Department of Agriculture, the report having been made up as the result of the discovery and correction of the errors in the computations for the reported tobacco acreage and was based solely on information received from a corps of special tobacco correspondents.

Information received from a corps of special correspondents located in the tobacco growing states, as made up and published, showed a large increase in the acreage over that of the preceding year in the Burley district of Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and West Virginia, and in the "rede" or dark district of Kentucky and Tennessee.

The corrected figures for those districts show a much smaller acreage than that indicated in the preliminary report and are substantiated by the figures of the final report, which is based on the returns from the regular and county and township correspondents of the bureau of statistics. The figures of this final report are in strict conformity to the information given by the bureau correspondents.

Poultry Notes.

Have a place for everything in your poultry house, and everything in its place.

Now is the time that your fowls need pounded glass, gravel and such things for grit.

Give your fowls a warm meal mornings which will keep them warm and make them lay.

It is a dead sure thing that no one man or class of men can monopolize the poultry business.

One secret of success in the poultry business is at all times to have the pens and houses clean and dry.

Have straw or chaff on your poultry floors to keep the feet of the birds warm and prevent their taking cold.

Cabbage, turnips, beans, potatoes and almost any refuse vegetables, boiled and mixed with meal are good for fowls.

An aid to making fowls lay in cold weather is to heat their grain before feeding, but do not get it too hot, as fowls have been killed that way.

After cleaning your poultry house thoroughly and using coke kernels off in all the crevices and on perches, then litter the floor with straw and chaff.

A good dose of pure Persian insect powder is about the only thing that will kill insects.

It is a poor policy to see all your best birds, even if you can obtain a good price, for while you obtain more ready money, you are not improving your stock, and your birds will deteriorate each year as long as you practice selling all of the best.

Only a Farm Boy.

Is it a blessing to be "only a farm boy," knowing the toll of the farm life, the free outdoor life, the simple rural recreations? Ask any doctor, lawyer or business man whose early life was spent on a farm, and you will find the answer will be an emphatic yes!

A country life for a child—not the few brief weeks of summer boarding, when he plays at doing "chores," plays at working in the garden, plays at following the plow, but the all-the-year-round tussle with the weather and work, yes, and saving in the garden, may be a real blessing in life can make up for the kind, a blessing which nothing else in life can make up for the kind, a blessing which gives him such a supply of strength and sturdiness and animal spirits as will enable him to buffet storms which would overcome a lesser spirit.

"Oh, the memory of the wilding walk to school over hill and dale, through wood and field; the joyous run through the lush grass in summer's dewy mornings; the delight of gathering the orchard's autumn store; the simple country pleasures! All these are set like precious jewels in the diadem of the past, and can never fade so long as life shall last."

Is it a blessing to have been "only a farm boy?" Ah, yes, it is a heritage so far reaching in its beneficial results that a king's ransom could not buy it.

An abundance of green food should be given the poultry if it is confined in the yard. Chopped onion tops and lettuce are among the most relished articles in this line.

Farm Lands.

The day is not far distant when farmers in this country will be compelled to study the nature and conservation of the soil. A hundred years ago a man could misuse his land as he pleased, then when it would no longer produce, move over a few feet, cut a few trees and have a new farm. But that day is over; most of the land is taken up, and the time has come for the farmer to preserve and build up the soil that he has. This is important not only from the individual point of view, but because the farm products must continue to furnish bread and meat to the increasing population of the country. Upon the grains, cotton, hay, and other vegetables, the Nation is dependent for its existence. Of what value are great mines, oil fields and lumber sections without something to eat and wear? Besides, farm products are no small item of wealth, aggregating as they do four and five billions of dollars per year.

It is an unfortunate fact that some of the best farming lands to be found fifty years ago lie now submerged in the Mississippi, the Ohio and the smaller streams. A very small per cent of what is left has been suffered to greatly deteriorate in fertility. This is from the mere fact that farmers have taken away from the soil more than they have put in. Where more is given than is taken the soil grows richer with cultivation. In England, Germany, Holland, Belgium and Denmark lands that have been tilled for hundreds of years are richer today than they were centuries ago. Cotton and woolen lands that have been in constant cultivation for five and six thousand years, supporting millions on millions of people in that densely populated country, and yet retaining their virgin fertility. American lands have been ruined, because they have been plowed, because they have been plowed.

Our farmers should realize that a man to farm properly and profitably needs instruction and training as well as in the other walks of life.

Look around among your farmer neighbors and take note of those who have succeeded in their business. Invariably you will find them to be cheerful and hopeful men, who went about their business with a smile on their faces and took the chances and chances of their business like a man facing rough and smooth alike as it came. Your frugal, worrying farmer seldom does much good for himself or others. He is either laboriously idle or making much ado about nothing, spending more time over the inconsequential than the essential things. The sensible farmer takes things as they come, is elated to be much by success, is down by failure, and keeps on an even keel, both in fair weather and foul.

It seems that the loco weed has been slandered. Supposed to be a product of insanity fatal to cattle and other animals, it is a most poisonous plant. We are now told by the experts of the department of agriculture that it is as harmless as cubeb pepper. It must be remembered that the tomatoe was once regarded as a poisonous plant, but it outlived the day when it seems now that eaters may eat tomatoes to their various effect and even thrive on it. Another superstition has been knocked out.

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS

The government has ordered new mail cars on the trains of the Louisville & Nashville railroad running between St. Louis and Nashville. Those in present use are old-fashioned compartment cars, while the new ones will be sixty feet long and built on the latest pattern. Their arrival will be hailed with much delight by the mail clerks on these runs.

The promotion of Frank McCostin from substitute to regular mail clerk has been announced. He will be on the runs between St. Louis and Nashville. For the past several months he has been serving as substitute on the Illinois Central. The new section of the United States government.

Niles, Mich., July 27.—Ill health alone terminated the forty-year usefulness of Miss Rebecca Bracken, sixty, a Michigan Central dispatcher, perhaps the only woman in the world who occupied such a trying and responsible railway position. And her death, which has just occurred, has removed from the juncture of four divisions a woman who was admired for her ability and respected as an "Angel of the Railroad Men."

Her success was due to her eloquence, and her popularity to tact and the warm-hearted interest she displayed in the welfare of every employee with whom she came into contact. It was no wonder, then, that when a few months ago she was retired on a pension, the conductors and officials gave her a diamond ring and other testimonials of their regard.

It is said that the office had no mark against her in all the forty years of service for the Michigan Central, an unprecedented record. Miss Bracken bore the reputation of having more knowledge of time cards and how trains ought to move in relation to one another in passing. Niles was never traceable to carelessness or error. Chas. Doyal, flagman on the Providence accommodation, had the misfortune to have two fingers on his right mashed while at work last week.

On account of the Great Hopkins County Fair being in progress at Madisonville this week the Providence accommodation will be held until 6 o'clock on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings for the convenience of those attending the fair.

Conductor Ed. Heafer has been transferred to one of the local runs between Hopkinsville and Nashville, the one that Cond. Barber was formerly on.

Brakeman Chas. Martin, who fell off a car in the yard here last week and sustained a dislocated arm is getting along nicely.

Conductor Curtis Lane, of Howell, Ind., was here Friday visiting friends and relatives.

Conductor Eugene Carnel is now on the coal train in place of Conductor Ed. Heafer, who is on one of the local runs between Hopkinsville and Nashville.

Mr. Jno. Fisher, formerly employed on the Henderson division as brakeman, now working on the Illinois Central at Paducah, visited friends at this place several days this week.

Four steam shovels are now at work on the Henderson division, near Goodlets, reducing the grade at that place.

Mr. Hopgood, who is employed by the L. & N. Railroad at this place, was injured in the yard here Sunday afternoon. He was on the top of a box car repairing a brake staff when the switch engine kicked some car on the track that the car stood on the track that he was working on. When the cars hit Hopgood was knocked off the top of the car onto a flat car breaking his left collar bone in two places and badly bruising his left arm in the fall.

A change was made in the day and night switchmen at this place Monday. Mr. Joe. Martin, who has been yardmaster at night for some time past, is now with the day crew on the engine in the upper end of the yard. Joe Brinkley succeeds Martin as night yardmaster and Switchman Robt. Priest is made foreman of the lower engine that was left vacant by Yardmaster Brinkley's promotion.

Another freight wreck occurred on the Henderson division near Cedar Hill, Tenn., last Monday night. Five cars on the third section of No. 81 in charge of Engineer Speichels and Conductor Wm. Oakley left the track, causing a blockade that lasted for several hours. No one was injured. The train was light and as they were going at a very fast rate of speed through that place the cars were thrown off. There seemed to be no other reason for the accident and it is attributed to the light train.

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Kirmse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps in his limbs. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Kirmse called a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The doctor speaks quite highly of Mr. Gilligan's medicines—Elkader, Iowa, Argus.

This remedy never fails. Keep it in your home, it may save life.

Human pity, compassion and love are the great mainstays of the universe. Without them life is void—a waste of breath and muscle. And yet how cheaply they come! Without money and without price are they set in motion. What a travesty upon the whole plan of human life that these necessary adjuncts are really so scarce.
